

Vebra Google Mapping & Search

Expand your website's horizons with Google technology

The most famous brand on the internet can help you win new instructions and sell more properties.

Google Mapping allows site visitors to display search results on a map or satellite image. Different icons show the different property types (house, flat, maisonette etc.) you have available in a given area, whilst clicking on the icon displays specific property details. It's great for getting buyers and sellers to interact with your website.

Google Property Search is a unique service from Vebra. Based on the power and common standards of Google search, it offers house hunters another route into your property portfolio. Rather than relying on a set of limited pre-determined parameters (number of bedrooms, semi-detached/ detached/terraced etc) it gives visitors total search flexibility.
